Date: 20th January 2019 (28/01/2019 on air)

This project was presented by BBC One TV program as a part of "The One Show".

An interview and Skunk Anansie's acoustic live performance were filmed at Brixton Jamm where Ken was in charge of the technical manager and sound engineer.

The performance took place in a bar room, which is not ideal for music performance or recording.

Ken set up microphones and a mixing console in the room for this session and mixed the sound into a 2-track to feed the recording engineer for the filming.

Ken mixed the sound with only headphones as there was no mixing room, however, he got great feedback on the sound and mix from the recording engineer.
